The young person will not be in their normal environment and so may be more susceptible than normal. Photography at Holiday School and Data and Image Consents

We document each Holiday School in the form of photographs taken during the week and the best of these are archived on the website for viewing by participants, past and present. However, we cannot control the use of all photographs taken at Holiday School, nor would we wish to. Almost everyone at the event now brings a camera, or a phone that doubles as one and many thousands of snaps are taken that cannot be vetted. Facebook and other social networking sites are now ubiquitous, as is the sharing of images on these forums - in the absence of control, we hope that the individual photographers will consider what the impact might be if they subsequently publish images on these networks. We will remind everyone of their responsibilities at the beginning of the week.

In law the photographer retains ownership of the image, unless they relinquish this via the signing of a release form or similar contract; clearly this is an impractical undertaking for Holiday School. However, because this is a private event held on private land, we assert our right to control their subsequent use in the same way as for the YFHS website galleries. A short statement and request for a signature(s) consenting to this condition follows.

In accordance with the Data Protection Act 1998, permission must be granted by the parent/guardians or participant (if over 18) before any images may be taken and used. Please indicate your consent (or otherwise).

Please read and complete:

BOTH THE APPLICANT AND PARENT/GUARDIAN MUST SIGN THIS FORM

I understand that Yorkshire Friends Holiday School reserves the right to control the use of images taken at the event. This right will only be exercised in the event of complaints being made by the subjects that appear in any published images.

I give permission for photographs/video/audio recordings of me/my child/ward to be taken and used:

In Quakers in Yorkshire publications and websites YES/NO

In independent publications to promote YFHS YES/NO
